Henderson Wants Press Ousted From Meetings; Says Letter On Vacancy Delayed Purposely

The Board of Public Works has voted to officially notify the Selectmen that a vacancy exists on the Board and request the Selectmen to fill it.

Chairman Allen Flye said Tuesday night that Board Secretary Alex Henderson would write the letter. He asked the TOWNSMAN reporter if the Selectmen had the letter yet and was told it had not been received up to Monday night when that Board met.

Flye was then queried as to when the letter would be written.

Mr. Henderson then issued a general denunciation of the newspapers which carry reports of the BPW meetings, stating they are inaccurate; stories and editorials are published calculated to embarrass him and that "it's about time to kick the press out of here so we can conduct our meetings properly".

He then stated that the vote of the board to move forward with the official procedure for filling the vacancy had, in fact, taken place. But he said members agreed the letter should be held up until it could be determined if a certain individual would take the job.

The results of that query, Henderson stated, would not be reported in front of the press as far as he was concerned.

Chairman Flye was asked if the vote of the Board meant that a letter should be written or whether Mr. Henderson was at liberty to delay sending the letter, according to his own wishes.

"No comment", replied the School Film Center Recommended To Board

A special investigating committee has recommended that an educational Audio-Visual Film Center be established in Andover, supported by both the public and the private schools and for the use of all.

The recommendation was made by William J. Charlton, well-known in the television industry since its infancy; Arthur Danforth of Andover High and Gordon Bencely of Phillips Academy, who heads the Academy's recently set up audio-visual center.

The cost of the equipment would run to about $2,010 and the operation of the center would entail the salary of a full-time secretary for 40 weeks and one teacher half time. The secretary would handle the correspondence of renting extra films, searching out films on special subjects, filing material

Christmas Seal Film Coming

The 1957 Christmas Seal Sale film will be shown at Andover Playhouse this week in cooperation with the Andover Christmas Seal Committee. The campaign opened on Friday, Nov. 15.

Frank Sinatra appears in the two-minute, eight-second film. He visits a seven-year-old boy in a tuberculosis hospital. The boy's hospital bed is a "battlefield", both make-believe and real. It is make-believe in the sense that the boy is playing with toy soldiers and Indians. It is real in the sense that he is battling for his life against tuberculosis.

Sinatra plays a warm scene with the boy, then, turning toward the camera, tells the audience that tuberculosis is their fight, too, and asks that they buy and use Christmas Seals to fight TB for everyone.

Sgt. Hickey said he and Mrs. Hickey left Andover Friday on their annual trip to Florida. They reached Myrtle Beach Saturday evening, when the accident occurred. Mrs. Hickey was treated at a motel, because there was no hospital nearer than 72 miles and it was full.

She suffered broken ribs, torn ligaments and muscles and a concussion. She'll be a patient at the Hospital for a week or more, Sgt. Hickey reported.

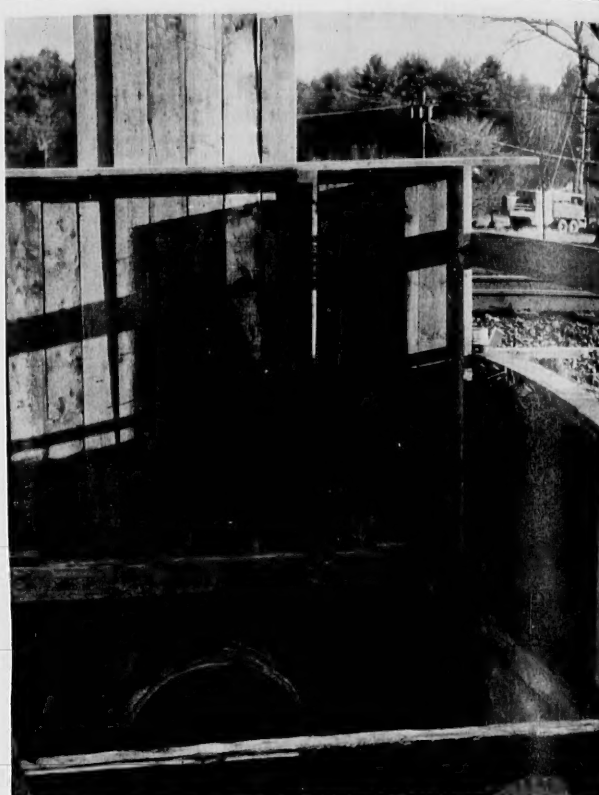

He said the driver of the other car, a lad of 16, was found guilty in court of "failing to yield the right of way" — a charge he described as similar to our driving to endanger. Sgt. Hickey said he was driving south on a two-lane highway when the other car came into view. Within feet of the Hickey car, the other vehicle swerved across the road, he recalled.

Sgt. Hickey was shaken up in the accident but did not require extensive medical care. Mrs. Hickey was taken first to a private clinic at Myrtle Beach and then to the motel, where doctors insisted she remain. They returned to Boston late Monday and Mrs. Hickey was brought here in the Fire Department ambulance.

The Hickey vehicle was a total wreck.

as well as slides and being on hand at all times. The teacher would make slides, repair the film and equipment and generally supervise the Center.

The equipment would be purchased in three stages, the men recommended. First would be 10 projectors, a camera, a copying stand, a slide viewer, a carton of films, extra lights and supplies — all for $1,125.

The second step would be a 16 mm projector with a screen, at $550. The third would be development of a community film library with files for film, office furniture and equipment, for $335. It was planned that each school would donate at least one film a year at a cost of about $50 to $85. Schools that have said they would like to participate are Phillips Academy, Pike, Sacred Heart, St. Augustine's and Abbot Academy.

The film library would be located, it was proposed, on the second floor of the Punchard building, where a corner smaller room adjoins a larger classroom. The smaller room would be used for office work storage and filing as well as a workroom while the larger would have a projection booth built in which could be entered from the first room and could be used for screening films, or showing them to classes as necessary. This room would be available to the private schools as well as the public schools for showings.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS INSTALLATION — These men and some not present for the picture were installed Sunday night as the new officers of Andover Council, Knights of Columbus. Standing are T. John Reilly, trustee; John Waldie, inside guard; Joseph Sullivan, recording secretary; Norman Comeau, outside guard and Eugene Zalla, knight. Seated are William A. Doherty, chancellor; Charles Regan, grand knight; William Tammany, deputy grand knight and Arthur Lovely, warden. Not present were Donald Clegg, Richard Hewitt, Edward Doyle and Robert Norman. (Leone)

Why a film center? The committee said: "There are two major pitfalls for the teacher in using films. The first is the problem of screening and selecting the proper one. This involves time. And a poor film can do more harm than good. The second pitfall is the necessity of booking a rental film months in advance. Most teachers cannot be this accurate, and even if they can be, will find that someone else has booked the film they want at the same time they want it. The only answer to these annoyances is a local film library, but a film library is usually an expensive proposition. Yet there is a way to minimize the expense without damage to quality or convenience.

"A film library for a small community should not utilize mail service. Mail service ties up a film for at least a week. Personal pickup and return on a one or at most a two-day booking is essential. Reservations can easily be made by telephone and usually on short notice. This also cuts cost.

"The method of stocking the library can also solve the screening problem. Each school that wishes to utilize the library should be required to donate to the library one to four reels of film a year, depending on the size of the school and the demands it would make on the library. The teachers in each school would then be responsible for screening and selecting films that they know they would use every year, which would divide the work of screening.

"Screening could be done at the A-V Center, because film distributors willingly send films for free screening to film libraries, but rarely to individuals or individual schools. Also, free films produced by industries would be given to a library servicing a number of schools more readily than to one school," the men reported.

On the subject of slides, Mr. Bencely reported that P.A. teachers had found the copying equipment invaluable in building up a collection of just the right pictures for teaching aids. Magazine pictures can be put on per-

Report Soon On Money Collection

The Committee studying the collection of town money probably will report to the Selectmen in two weeks.

This committee, authorized at town meeting last March, has been looking into the methods of collecting all money due the town and presumably will make recommendations about collecting the money centrally.

There has been some discussion over the last few years that all money owed the town should be collected through the tax collector's office.

Any recommendations of the Committee, it is understood, may be reflected in all town department budgets. A change in procedure to the central collection method would, as an example, call possibly for less money in some departmental budgets and an increase in the budget of the collector's office. These changes would be made at the town meeting, it is explained, if the recommendations of the special committee are adopted then.

Will Consult Chief
On License Hours

The Selectmen are trying to decide whether specific closing hours can be written into some victuallers licenses.

Acting as a licensing board, the Selectmen Monday night considered the renewal of 18 alcoholic beverage licenses. And they also discussed a recommendation that licenses for the sale of food, in some cases, be granted with the provision that opening and closing hours be written into the license.

Town Clerk George Winslow told the Selectmen that Police Chief David Nicoll recommended this action, particularly where an establishment primarily is concerned with the sale of alcoholic beverages and food is more or less incidental.

Selectman Stafford Lindsay said he doubted whether the board has the authority to close up restaurants at the same time that they must stop selling alcoholic beverages. And there was some feeling that it wouldn't be fair to insist on the ABC closing hours for some places where food is sold if others don't have to comply.

Chief Nicoll will be asked to make further recommendations next week. Selectman Sidney P. White suggested perhaps the Board should act on specific cases, possibly "by revoking the license" if there is an abuse of the law covering sale of the beverages.

DAR Meets
December 10

Priscilla Abbot Chapter, NSDAR, will hold its December meeting Tuesday, Dec. 10, at 2 o'clock at the home of the regent, Mrs. Frank Hayes instead of at Mrs. Thaxter Eaton's as scheduled in the handbook.

The Rev. Clinton Carvell of No. Andover will bring a Christmas message and the members are asked to bring gifts for the boys of Hillside school, as has been done in the past.

The social hour will follow and refreshments will be served by the hostesses, Mrs. George Glennie, Mrs. Willard Currier Sr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Edmands.

TWO TEACHERS
RESIGN POSTS

Two teachers in the Andover Schools have resigned their positions effective at the start of the Christmas vacation.

Mrs. Dorothy M. Huff and Mrs. Alice S. Hart, both of whom were elected to the system in September, resigned for personal reasons. Mrs. Huff who came from Portland, has been teaching a first grade in Central School and Mrs. Hart, who came from Methuen, has been teaching at Stowe.

Brook Proposition Disappointing

The report on Rogers Brook, suggesting an over-all expenditure of $880,000, was discouraging.

Back last spring, state engineers thought they could design a drainage project, while remaining within the money appropriated. The town had put up its $175,000 and the state expected to do the other half.

Since that time, the project has grown into one that will require an expenditure of about $450,000 from the town, on the basis of matching funds. And as one town official said, it is useless to do part of the job now unless we are willing to follow through with the other section.

Sometimes we wonder about getting involved with the state.

Projects somehow get more expensive when the state, plus its consulting engineers, get their hands on them. The red tape gets worse and worse — witness the way Rogers Brook plan itself has suffered from delay in Boston.

Now we have to make up our minds to either spend nearly half a million dollars on the brook or leave it alone.

It's a shame these are the alternatives, for there will be plenty of objection to spending so much money, even from the men and women who supported the lesser appropriation.

In a time when the town is faced with tremendous responsibilities towards its citizens, in the areas of water sewage, schools and other capital expenditures, this becomes another huge burden. We, like many other interested observers, are hopefully wishing that some solution can be found, without spending $450,000.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — December, 1907

The regular meeting of the Knights of Columbus was held last evening and the annual election of officers took place. P. J. Dwane was named grand knight.

The new management for the Punchard paper has been named. Miss Ethel Hitchcock will be editor-in-chief and Harold Taylor will be assistant editor-in-chief. Others include Gertrude Randall, news editor; Charlotte Thomes, verse editor; Harold Marland, alumni editor; Lewis Lindsay, athletic editor; Jennie Coyne, business manager and Fred Morrison, assistant business manager.

The Punchard football team has just completed another creditable season, with Thomas Kyle as captain and quarterback.

The Royal football team just finished its season, with an outstanding record. It won every game and was only scored on once.

James Gillen has purchased the house owned by Herbert Chase on Washington ave.

25 Years Ago — December, 1932

Chief George Dane has warned residents of the town to beware of counterfeit half dollars. Several have turned up around town in recent weeks, the chief stated.

Tree Warden Ralph Berry has cut his budget estimate this year by some 16 percent. Last year, he received $4500 apiece for the tree and moth departments. His estimate this year is $3750 apiece.

A detailed analysis of salaries paid town employees, prepared by a special committee, shows most Andover officials receive about the average for their job in surrounding communities. A few are slightly higher than their counterparts in other towns and a few receive slightly less than the average.

An Elm st. resident died on the way to the hospital Friday night, after his car collided with a trolley on No. Main st. The car was headed toward Shawsheen and police said it apparently drove all the way down the hill in the car tracks. The trolley had just started up after a stop at Harding st., when the motorman saw the car coming and put the electric vehicle in reverse.

A special all-feature show will be staged in the Colonial Theatre Dec. 14 for the benefit of the local Boy Scouts.

Local firemen will, again this year, help the V.F.W. repair toys to be given needy children in the town.

10 Years Ago — December, 1947

The School Committee has approved a budget of $269,279 — an increase of less than one-half of a percent over last year. The Finance Committee now is studying the budget.

The Andover Community Orchestra will present its first concert of the season Sunday at 3:30 in Memorial Auditorium.

Punchard lost to Johnson High of No. Andover, 21-12, Thanksgiving Day. A prize for the best-decorated Christmas tree in town will be given by the Shawsheen Village Woman's Club, as its part in the celebration of the real, old-fashioned Christmas in town.

The Methuen School Committee has elected Edward I. Erickson as superintendent. Erickson was superintendent here for three years during the war, in the absence of Kenneth Sherman. Later, he went to Longmeadow.

The ban on all-night parking started Dec. 1. Chief George Dane has warned all residents that the police will enforce the law strictly, because the BPW this year has taken out many sections of curbing for private driveways. He also commended residents for their cooperation in past years.

An auction will be held in Christ Church parish house Saturday, starting at 10 a.m. Antique furniture and many other items will be sold.

King's Daughters To Have Party

The Christmas meeting of the Courteous Circle of The King's Daughters will be held in the South Church vestry Monday evening, Dec. 9, at 6 o'clock when supper will be served by the Whatsoever Committee.

The business meeting will follow. The speaker will be Mrs. Marjorie Kellett of Methuen, who will read from the delightful little story, "The Little Mixer." Mrs. Frank Crawford will have charge of the devotions. The Seaman's Friend chairman, Mrs. Bendroth, asks that dishtowels be brought.

CHRISTMAS GREENS SALE DEC. 11

The annual Christmas Green's sale, sponsored by the Women's Alliance of the North Parish Church in No. Andover, will be held Dec. 11, at 2 in the vestry.

GOURMET "STEALS"

BY BETTY BLAISDELL

Now comes the annual scramble for tight-lidded tins of all descriptions! Why? For the pre-Christmas batching up of home-baked cookies and fruit cakes, of course! Go in any good family home these days and the rich spicy and nutty aromas reach out and give you a mighty nostalgic slap on the nose!

Somehow, Thanksgiving preparations set in motion almost a continuous business of cooking in earnest. Everyone's in the mood and everyone's in the act. My kids get floured up, fight over who will crack nuts with the hammer as against he who gets left with a foolish, old nut cracker. The kitchen linoleum doesn't get waxed — not for at least another week — and in all there's a deal of activity, let us say, in one congested kitchen I know of!

The Karl Killorins have been turning out their favorite fruit cake this week and last, using a wonderful sounding old Louisiana recipe from Mrs. Killorin's southern family. It will store very well with moisture assured, for the deep, deep southern fruit cakes, as you know, get a sprinkling of liquor after baking and over a period of two to three weeks before it is to be eaten. A good 100 percent Bourbon whiskey is used for this recipe:

FRUIT CAKE
(Mrs. Karl Killorin)
1 1/4 lbs. shelled pecans
1 1/4 lb. crystallized pineapple
1 lb. crystallized cherries
1 lb. dates
2 cups flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 lb. butter
4 Tbl. Bourbon whiskey
2 Tbl. white Karo
1 tsp. vanilla
1 tsp. lemon extract
4 eggs, unbeaten

Prepare the fruit by chopping and rolling in 1/2 flour called for in above recipe. Use pecans in whole or broken pieces. Cream the butter and sugar in large mixing bowl, add the extracts and Karo, then the eggs one at a time and beating after each addition. Add whiskey, flour (which has been sifted with the salt and baking powder), the fruits and the nuts. Pack firmly in a 5-lb angel cake pan and bake in a 250 degree oven for three hours. It can be baked in two smaller loaf pans at 275 degrees for two hours. Let the cake cool in the pan or pans, but remove for the various additions of liquor. Caution: don't overdo with the alcohol. A little over the two or three-week period accomplishes the moisturizing.

SHRIMP APPETIZER

(Mrs. Frank Michel)

If you like shrimp or just like to charm your guests with it, here is one recipe you cannot do without. It comes from the very chic and petite Marcia Michel, mother of three adorable children, who is a superb hostess, I understand, and does this with a few flicks and a flair.

4 lbs. fresh shrimp
3/4 cup mayonnaise
1 tsp. salt
2 tsp. dry mustard
6 scallions
2 stalks celery
parsley
1 tsp. paprika
2 dashes tabasco
chili sauce (to color)
pinch of dill, fresh or dried

Chop the scallions, celery and parsley and drain off any moisture; combine all other ingredients except the shrimp and mix together for a sauce. Taste and adjust seasonings. Then combine with the shrimp and place in a tightly covered jar, store in refrigerator until ready for use.

The "flair" comes in with Marcia's artistic presentation of this delectable appetizer which is never twice the same. She is particular not to have it too chilled when serving; usually it goes into one beautiful bowl with suitable garnishes and is never without handy picks for "dipping in". Preparing one or two days ahead of time improves the flavor.

VIENNA VEAL GOULASH

(Also Mrs. Michel)

Having lived in Paris and other parts of Europe, Marcia has a number of foreign recipes she has gathered and adapted to her taste and the American market. Here is one very worth trying:

2 lbs. veal shoulder, cubed
2 tsp. salt
2 tsp. paprika
4 small onions, coarsley chopped
1/4 cup butter
1/4 cup Hunt's tomato sauce
2 peeled tomatoes
2 Tbl. sour cream

Sprinkle cubed veal with salt and paprika. Let stand while sauteing onions in butter. Add veal to onions, stirring over medium heat until veal loses its redness. Reduce heat, add tomato sauce. Cut peeled tomatoes directly into pan so as to catch all juice; cover and simmer about one and a half hours, until veal is tender. Stir in sour cream over low heat until cream is well blended. Correct seasoning to taste.

SALAD DRESSING

(Mrs. Lloyd Howells)

A French type dressing, so good all Mrs. Howells' friends have asked for the recipe. It has been a standard in her household since 1934, which certainly is proof enough that it "wears well".

1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. paprika
1 med. onion, grated finely
1/3 cup ketchup
1/2 cup Wesson or Kraft oil
1/4 cup vinegar
1 Tbl. lemon juice

Put all ingredients in mixing bowl and beat with electric beaters for 1 1/2 min. Store in tightly covered jar and shake well before using. This makes 1/2 pint and is very good on lettuce hearts, a chef's or mixed vegetable salad.

At The Library

COMING EVENTS: DECEMBER

- 5 Littlest Listeners, Ballardvale Branch, 10 a.m.
- 10 Great Books Discussion Group, 7:45 p.m.
- 11 Christmas party for Robins group of Littlest Listeners, 10 a.m.
- 12 Ballardvale branch library book talk, 10:30 a.m.

Littlest Listeners

Ballardvale members of the Littlest Listeners will have their usual story and music hour at the branch library on Thursday morning, Dec. 5, at 10 o'clock. This group is known as the "Sparrows"; its program is similar to that of the Robins and Cardinals at the main library on alternate Wednesdays.

Newcomers to Ballardvale are cordially invited to attend this group at any time during the year. A child must have had its third birthday in order to become a member of any group.

Christmas Party

The first Christmas party for Littlest Listeners will be held at the Memorial Hall Library on Wednesday morning, Dec. 11, at 10 o'clock, for the Robins group. The Cardinals will have their party the following Wednesday, Dec. 18, and the Sparrows of Ballardvale will have their good time on Thursday morning, Dec. 19.

Mothers are always invited to plan to remain with the children for the parties and to observe the children as they carry out their program.

Books As Christmas Gifts

Miss Miriam Putnam, librarian of the Memorial Hall Library, will speak on books for Christmas giving at a morning meeting in the Ballardvale Branch Library on Thursday morning, Dec. 12, at 10:30 o'clock. Her suggestions will be based on the recent fall publications, many of which were displayed at the main library during Book Week. The public is cordially invited. Miss Putnam will be happy to answer questions for individual Christmas lists, if desired.

Most Popular New Books

During Book Week, when many of the best of the fall publications were on display at the library, readers had an opportunity to examine them at their leisure and to make reserves for those titles which appealed. Here is the result of their reserving of adult books. Heaviest number of reserves, as may well be expected, were made in the much advertised fields — in fiction, for "By Love Possessed", Cozzens; "Atlas Shrugged", Rand; "Below The Salt", Cozzens; "Gracious Lily Affair", Massey; "Edge Of Darkness", Chase; "On The Beach", Shute; "Remember Me To God", Kaufman; "Sing Out The Glory", Carroll; "Sound Of Thunder", Caldwell.

Less well known, but already well represented on the reserve list, are "Not By Bread", translated from the Russian, Dudintsev; "Rally Round The Flag, Boys", Shulman; "Sandy Was A Soldier's Boy", Walker; "Tall Stranger", Stevenson; "Warm Bodies", Morris; and "When The Bough Breaks", by Carney. This last named book and another title "From The Dark Tower" by Pawel may well be read by those who have enjoyed "Organization Man" and "Battle For Your Mind", "March The Ninth", Hutchinson; "The Actress" Breuer and three mysteries, "Count The Cost", Ferrars; "The Schemers", Fenington and "The Running Man" by Ben Benson end up the fiction books.

"Mr. Baruch" by Margaret Coit and "My Own Story", by Bernard Baruch himself, were equally well reserved. Catherine Marshall's book "To Live Again" proved extremely popular, as one would expect it to be after the success of "Man Called Peter". Other non-fiction on the much wanted list covers a number of interests: "Return To The Islands", Grimble; "The Second Mayflower Adventure", Charlton; "Story Of Walt Disney", Miller; "Vanished Cities", Schreiber, "Complete Book Of Rug Braiding", Feeley; "Best Cartoons Of The Year", "Alarms And Diversions", Thurber; "Leftover Life To Kill", by the widow of the poet Dylan Thomas; "Ladies Home Journal Interior Decoration Book" and the new book by the late Dr. Schindler, "Woman's Guide To Better Living".

Great Books Group Continues Cervantes

At the next meeting of the Great Books Discussion Group, at the Memorial Hall Library Tuesday evening, Dec. 10, the group will continue discussion of Cervantes' "Don Quixote". The reading assigned is Book 2. This group meets every other Tuesday evening at the library at 7:45 o'clock.

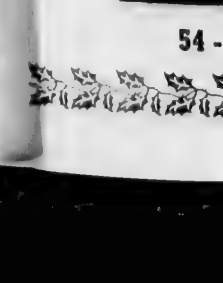

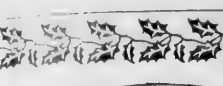

ANNUAL HOLIDAY FAIR

The annual "Holiday Fair", under the sponsorship of the Ballardvale United Church Women's Guild, will be held Saturday afternoon and evening in the Community Room starting at 2 o'clock. Tea will be served during the afternoon. A baked bean and ham dinner will be served in the Church vestry starting at 5:30 p.m. At 8 o'clock there will be a variety show in the Community Room.

Hearing On Zoning Held In W. Parish

Reasons for up-grading present zoning were explained to about 30 persons Nov. 26 at the first of three scheduled hearings on zoning proposals.

The Planning Board conducted the meeting in West Parish School.

Major concern of some residents was the affect of re-zoning to larger house lots, which some felt might keep people out of Andover. Members of the Board said the intent is to intelligently plan the growth of the town, channelling growth into areas where services exist and to consider the over-all well-being of the town in respect to taxes, services and schools.

William P. Foster spoke against up-grading residential areas, mentioning the area off Central st. which he owns. He also objected to zoning land for park areas.

Atty. Fredric O'Brien, a Board member, agreed that zoning land to be taken for parks later on is not a valid step — but he pointed out that land east of the By-Pass, scheduled for "rural" classification, would not support dense population because few services are available.

Planning Board hearings are also scheduled for Ballardvale and Central School.

In general, the zoning changes involve creating two-acre residential lots in about one-third of the town and up-grading present lot sizes in many other sections.

$5,000 Fire At Country Club

Damage, estimated at $5000 by Fire Chief Henry Hilton, resulted from a fire at the Andover Country Club Nov. 29.

The blaze, confined to the basement, was discovered shortly after 8 a.m. by Peter Averka, building custodian. The flames destroyed food and liquors stored in the basement area. Chief Hilton said the fire was caused by defective electrical apparatus.

The basement lounge and dining room were damaged but upper floors were damaged only by smoke. Some structural damage in the basement area was also reported. The fire was described as unspectacular, with the flames mostly hidden.

Holy Name Society Elects New Officers

Thomas E. Colgan was recently elected president of the Holy Name Society of St. Augustine's Church.

Elections were held at the recent father-son Communion breakfast. Other officers elected were: Garrett Burke, vice president; James V. Cerraughty, secretary; Joseph L. Walsh, treasurer; and Peter Flannery, marshal.

Henderson then pointed out that there was no date mentioned in the vote of the Board — that it did not specify the letter was to be written at any particular time.

During a burst of bitter criticism of the press, Henderson said he would never bring up matters while the reporters were present "because you never print it right".

The subject of the vacancy was brought up at the close of the meeting Tuesday because there had been reports of the Board's decision to move forward with the selection of a member. The Board of Selectmen and the remaining four members of the BPW elect the person by a majority vote. The selectmen Monday night said they are ready to meet at any time with the BPW for this purpose.

manent slides for about 17 cents apiece, and a group can be shown the slides owned by the Center without buying copies at 50 cents apiece, which Mr. Bencely said were often unsatisfactory.

The question of how the center would be financed the men felt should be up to the school committee and they did not venture any recommendations. They did offer suggestions that perhaps it could be supported on a per pupil basis by all the schools involved, or if the public schools paid for the operation of the center, the cost of supplying the films could be borne by the private schools. No decision was made however and numerous suggestions will be discussed later.

Post Office Picking Up

Christmas business started in earnest at the Post Office Monday. Postmaster Stephen Boland said the sale of stamps climbed sharply over normal Monday sales, indicating the beginning of the Christmas rush.

He suggested that residents use the stamps promptly and mail their Christmas cards early in the month.

Two windows are open to sell stamps, he explained and a third will be opened whenever the demand is great enough.

Plans are well underway for handling the usual deluge of mail the postmaster said. All outgoing mail will be handled in the basement, starting Dec. 9. This area is used each year to handle the volume without completely blocking up the regular facilities. Up to 25 extra persons may be hired to handle the mail, Boland said. Extra trucks will also be put to use when the need becomes evident, later this month.

Boland said the first Monday in December always produces the first seasonal surge in stamp sales. And over the years, Dec. 17 and 18 can be counted on to produce the greatest volume of mail through the canceling machine, he explained.

He has suggested that Dec. 17 should be the deadline for mailing local cards and Dec. 10 should be the last day for out-of-town mail. By mailing earlier than usual, Boland explained, it will be possible to get all the mail sorted and delivered on time.

New Regulation Permits Explained

Police Chief David Nicoll said that under a revised state law, all applicants for permits to carry pistols or revolvers must now be fingerprinted. The chief explained that formerly this was not a requirement.

Some 75-100 persons currently have permits to carry these weapons, Nicoll said. As their permits run out, the new procedure goes into effect.

Various other changes in the law include a reduction of the limit — from 21 to 18 — of persons eligible for permits. This time, the chief said, most benefit college students who belong to shooting clubs and have to carry target pistols for the purpose.

Actually, most of the permits issued here are for guns used for target practice. Chief Nicoll said Auxiliary Police personnel have added considerably to the total, as many of them take in shooting matches and tournaments.

Under the revised law, a permit must be issued by the police — formerly an applicant could go to the courts for a permit if refused by the chief. Full application, bearing a set of prints, is sent to the police in Boston, where it is checked carefully.

Commenting on the permits issued here, Chief Nicoll explained that only residents of the town or persons with business here may be given permits. The new permit is good for two years, he stated, and a change in the law.

Of the persons receiving permits here, most are residents. Even after a man no longer carries a gun requiring the permit, the chief stated, he must want to have it for identification purposes. Nicoll explained a permit to carry a gun is identification, especially under the new law. Anyone traveling around the country, or in foreign countries, often finds this to be excellent identification.

New Regulations On Gun Permits Explained By Chief

Police Chief David Nicoll and Sgt. Robert Deyermund are getting plenty of fingerprinting practice. For under a revised state law, all applicants for permits to carry pistols or revolvers must now be fingerprinted. The chief explained that formerly this was not a requirement.

Some 75-100 persons currently have permits to carry these weapons, Nicoll said. As their permits run out, the new procedure goes into effect.

Various other changes in the law include a reduction of the age limit - from 21 to 18 - of those eligible for permits. This was done, the chief said, mostly to benefit college students who belong to shooting clubs and have to carry target pistols for the purpose.

Actually, most of the permits issued here are for guns used in target practice. Chief Nicoll said Auxiliary Police personnel have added considerably to the total, as many of them take part in shooting matches and practice.

Under the revised law, all permits must be issued by the chief of police - formerly an applicant could go to the courts for a permit if it refused by the chief. The full application, bearing a full set of prints, is sent to the state police in Boston, where it is checked carefully.

Commenting on the permits issued here, Chief Nicoll explained that only residents of the town or persons with businesses here may be given permits. The new permit is good for two years, he stated, another change in the law.

Of the persons receiving permits here, most are renewals. Even after a man no longer carries a gun requiring the permit, the chief stated, he quite often wants to have it for identification purposes. Nicoll explained that a permit to carry a gun is sound identification, specially under the new law. Anyone travelling around the country, or to other countries, often finds this permit to be excellent identification.

Nicoll also pointed out that many changes in the state law governing the sale of firearms of all types have been made. And there are also changes in the law about carrying a rifle or shot gun and in the law relating to the sale of BB guns and who may use them under specific conditions.

Documents Placed In Corner Stone

Official ceremonies were held Monday morning, as the cornerstone of the new Telephone Co. building on Elm st. was put in place.

Documents concerning the town and the company were sealed into a metal box.

Mrs. Ethel V. Sullivan, chief operator for Andover, placed the container in the niche behind the cornerstone, assisted by William J. Chicoine, manager of the Lawrence office.

Included among the documents placed behind the cornerstone were an Andover TOWNSMAN, dated Nov. 27, 1957; a town report, presented by Selectman Stafford Lindsay; a scroll listing the members of the Andover Service Club, from Vice President Donald E. Lundgren; a telephone directory, presented by Mrs. Sullivan; a copy of the building authorization from Harry Patterson, wire chief; and a copy of the architect's sketch of the building, Thomas O'Hearn, Massachusetts conversion supervisor.

The Rev. Horace Seldon of the Free Church opened the short ceremony with the invocation, followed by remarks from Sidney P. White, chairman of the Board of Selectmen. Mr. Chicoine introduced members of the Telephone Co. staff present for the ceremony and Very Rev. Henry B. Smith, O.S.A., pastor of St. Augustine's Church, gave the benediction.

Among those present were William V. Emmons and Stafford A. Lindsay of the Board of Selectmen, Police Chief David L. Nicoll, Fire Chief Henry L. Hilton, Building Inspector Ralph

W. Coleman, William LoPiano of Fitchie & Son, architects, Frank Rich Jr., of the contracting firm of that name and telephone officials from Lawrence and Boston.

Fr. Smith Writes In Praise Of Band

Very Rev. Henry B. Smith, O.S.A., pastor of St. Augustine's Church, sent the following letter to the Andover School Board:

"Congratulations to the director and members of the Andover High School Band. They richly deserved the first prize (in the recent Lawrence parade). We were very proud of them. They were a credit to you and to the town. Their performance was outstanding and their conduct was exemplary. Please convey my sincere congratulations to Mr. March (Headmaster). En-

Selectmen Should Take Action

No clear solution to the engineering problems is in sight.

Queried Monday night at the Selectmen's meeting, Sidney P. White said he does not plan to set up a engineering department for the town. But he recalled that some ago the Board did feel a small department could be busy enough to warrant creation.

The Board of Public Works not now employ an engineer though Donald Bassetts do engineering work for the town and sewer departments heads.

"I would assume the Board provide for it, or for at least a man", White asserted.

He recalled that Charles Liard was the first town engineer moving from the BPW student's post. Warren Peter Ralph Preble have held the post more recently. But when he left the job this summer not replaced by the Public Works.

For some time before the members of the Board had commented that Preble was "too thin". He often was to offer engineering advice to other town departments; of the water and sewer departments and also acted as Public Works Board engineer. Since he left, the town sewer departments have been handed to Bassetts, who posed to do only engineering to satisfaction.

Selectmen Say They Won't Take Action On Engineer Dept.

No clear solution to town engineering problems is yet in sight.

Quered Monday night at the Selectmen's meeting, Chairman Sidney P. White said his Board does not plan to set up an engineering department for the town. But he recalled that some years ago the Board did feel that a small department could be kept busy enough to warrant its creation.

The Board of Public Works does not now employ an engineer, although Donald Bassett does some engineering work for the water and sewer departments which he heads.

"I would assume the BPW would provide for it, or for at least one man", White asserted.

He recalled that Charles Giliard was the first town engineer, moving from the BPW superintendent's post. Warren Peterson and Ralph Preble have held the post more recently. But when Preble left the job this summer, he was not replaced by the Board of Public Works.

For some time before that, members of the Board had often commented that Preble was "spread too thin". He often was called on to offer engineering advice to other town departments; was head of the water and sewer departments and also acted as the Public Works Board engineer.

Since he left, the water and sewer departments have been handed to Bassett, who is supposed to do only enough engineering to satisfactorily complete the work under his control.

The Selectmen have pointed out that they must now make plans for someone to fill Maclaren's job - and he had been doing some engineering work not strictly in the assessors' province but necessary to the town.

Members of the Board of Selectmen agreed Monday night that if an engineering department - or at least one man in the BPW - is not set up somewhere in the 1958 budget - town boards and officials will have to depend to an even greater extent on consulting engineers in 1958.

TOOK NO ACTION ON SPECIAL HEARING

The Selectmen have been asked by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen to request a special hearing in Andover on the discontinuation of service. A hearing is scheduled for Lawrence Jan. 6.

The Selectmen felt Andover's viewpoint could be expressed then and another hearing requested if the Lawrence one was not satisfactory.
